

FPI's Affiliate Membership Program

- ✓ Do you work for a foodservice operator, distributor or group purchasing organization?
- ✓ And have responsibilities for foodservice packaging?
- ✓ If so, join FPI – for FREE!

The Foodservice Packaging Institute (FPI), the trade association for converters of foodservice packaging products and their raw material and machinery suppliers, offers a free membership to representatives from any foodservice operator, distributor or group purchasing organization in North America.

The benefits of FPI's Affiliate Membership include:

- Access to electronic publications:
 - Executive Briefs – a twice-monthly newsletter that reports, in a concise format, the latest foodservice industry news, facts and trends from North American and beyond.
 - Packaging Innovations & Insights – a quarterly newsletter that highlights new foodservice packaging products.
 - Legislative and Regulatory Report – a recap of legislative and regulatory initiatives in the U.S. and abroad that may be impacting the industry.
- Invitations to attend FPI's semi-annual meetings: Our meetings rank as the top benefit by all FPI members, and Affiliate Members receive a 50% discount off registration fees to encourage participation.
- Assistance with sourcing new products: Simply submit your RFP to FPI, and we'll distribute it to our membership, which includes roughly 85 percent of the industry in North America.

Interested? Just send an email with your request and contact information to FPI's Jennifer Goldman (jgoldman@fpi.org). Upon approval, you'll start receiving the benefits of membership immediately.
